Jazz, 'Stalag 17', Sports To Highlight Houseparty

Dixieland jazz, the Charlatan production of "Stalag 17" and home events in each of the varsity spring sports will highlight Spring Houseparty Weekend.

Max McCarthy's Dixieland Ramblers will present a jazz concert from the porch of Alpha Delt from 10 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday.

The Social Committee said today that the Ramblers, a professional group from Rochester, have played a number of college engagements and will be featured at Cornell the same weekend.

They did a year and a half coast-to-coast television show sponsored by DuPont, have recently finished a date at the Pine Orchard Club in Connecticut and have made two records for Capital.

Each member of the group has played with major bands. The clarinet player was at one time a member of Bob Crosby's Bobcats.

The festivities begin at 3:30 p.m. Friday May 10, when the tennis team plays host to the Rochester netmen. At 4:30 p.m. the Hobart nine will battle the Buff and Blue on the baseball diamond and Friday night at 8:30 p.m. the Charlatans will present their final production of "Stalag 17."

At 2 p.m. Saturday afternoon, the track team will face Ithaca College while the golf team meets RPI. The lacrosse squad will meet the Cortland stickmen at 2:30 p.m.

College Welcomes 30 Sub-freshmen This Weekend

Over thirty high school juniors and seniors will arrive on the Hill tonight and tomorrow morning for the spring sub-freshman weekend. Assistant Secretary of Admissions Stephen Waite said that many of the sub-frosh have been accepted and are planning to matriculate here next fall.

Saturday morning the sub-freshmen will visit classes and meet with the secretaries of admissions. During the afternoon President Robert McEwen will welcome the sub-frosh, Librarian Walter Pilkington will take them on a tour of the library and professors will talk to those students interested in study in their departments, said Waite.

Saturday evening Dean Tolles will speak on study and co-curricular activities and members of the student body will discuss undergraduate organizations. After the talks, Block H members will show films of the 1956 football season.

Prof. Mox Weber and other coaches will talk on Sunday morning to the sub-freshmen interested in athletics, Waite said.

Phelps Receives Art Scholarship From Association

The Art Students' League of New York City has announced the award of one of its out-of-town scholarships for 1957-58 to Peter Phelps, a Hamilton senior. Nine of these scholarships were awarded this year on the basis of work submitted by many applicants in nation-wide competition.

Phelps, a Chi Psi, has studied art at Hamilton under Prof. James Penney, former vice-president of the League.

In addition to Phelps, representing New York State, awards went to students from art schools, colleges and universities in Illinois, Kansas, Michigan, Massachusetts, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Maryland.

They were selected by a jury of prominent League art instructors.

The Art Students' League, America's oldest and largest independent art school, has awarded such scholarships annually since its founding in 1875.

Prom Group Holds Party In Commons

A post-prom party for Clinton High School students attending the CCHS Junior Prom will be held in Commons tomorrow evening.

The Buffers and Clayton Alcorn's dance band, the Hamiltones, will provide entertainment. A buffet supper will also be served.

Admission to the party will be granted to those who have a Junior Prom ticket stub. The party will last from 1 to 3 a.m. following the dance.

Funds for the party were donated by interested parents and several community organizations.

Was Los members toss Dick Flanagan, the fifth sophomore to be tapped for membership by the junior honorary society, after Chapel Tuesday. Flanagan is sophomore representative to the Honor Court and Student Council, a member of the Debate Club and was freshman class president. Was Los will tap its sixth and last sophomore after Chapel assembly next Tuesday. Other sophomores tapped before Flanagan are Don Spencer, Ward Wettlaufer, Don Kittell and Dan Murdock.

Baldwin To Play at Troy Convention

Choir Director John Baldwin will be one of three performers at the regional convention of the American Guild of Organists to be held at Troy on May 6-8.

Baldwin, a member of the Guild, will play two concertos with the Tri-Cities Orchestra and will deliver a lecture on choral techniques.

Baldwin will perform a piece written by Roger Hannay.

The convention will also feature Pierre Cochereau of Notre Dame de Paris and David Craighead of the Eastman School of Music as soloists.

Colt, vonLiebermann, Bates, Ahlstrom Head Cast of Charlatans' Production

Thursday and Friday night May 9 and 10 in the Hall of Commons, the Charlatans will present "Stalag 17." The cast of 17 members is headed by Tim Colt, Don vonLiebermann, Griff Bates and Tim Ahlstrom. The production, under the direction of Walter Smyth, is being produced in 16 days, the shortest length of time in which a three act play has been prepared at Hamilton.

The story involves a group of prisoners in a German prison camp who discover that there is a spy among them. The plot of the play involves their actions in trying to discover their betrayer.

"Stalag," a comedy-melodrama, had a long run on Broadway four years ago and was made into an award-winning motion picture.

For the past week rehearsals have been held in the College Infirmary. Smyth said that he hoped to revive student interest in the Charlatans with this production. "The cast is large and some actors are inexperienced but all work very well together," he said.

The cast includes Rey Riemer, Grey Akers Arthur Romans, Jamie McClintock, Arthur Skidmore, John Weatherly, Alan Kempler, Frank Rizzo, Alan Lord, Thomas Putnam, Norman Frederickson and Thomas Benson.

Staging for the production will be designed by Tom Oliver; properties will be handled by Clayton Alcorn and Jon Mulford; Jerry Smith and Ted Hand will handle the lighting and Bill Tennant is in charge of publicity. Tickets will be available early next week in Root Hall.

Alumni Establish Group To Promote Hamilton Choir

Prof. John Baldwin, director of the Choir, announced Tuesday the formation of the Hamilton College Choir Promotion Association, an alumni group devoted to publicizing and sponsoring the College choir.

The Association is unlike most college alumni groups in that there are no dues required and no automatic membership of all alumni. Instead, Baldwin said, membership will be voluntary and will entail working to further the appreciation of the Choir by music lovers by arranging concerts and encouraging interest in the Choir and its work.

There is a definite need for this sort of activity, Baldwin said, because in the 82 year history of the Choir only a smattering of photographs, programs and other memorabilia has been collected to document and publicize the Hamilton Choir.

Alumni willing to devote time and energy to this purpose are hard to find, he said.

Baldwin cited Hamilton alumnus Dr. Hengerer of Syracuse, author of an article on this subject in a forthcoming issue of the "Alumni Review," as an example of the sort of dedicated alumnus.

He stressed the fact that the Association's purpose is to draw the attention of music lovers and friends of the College, rather than to obtain funds. "This is not a gimmick to collect more money."

Free Chest X-Ray Available Tuesday

Mobile Chest X-ray unit service will be available free to Hamilton students, faculty and administration Tuesday, May 7, the Oneida County Health and Tuberculosis Association announced this week.

Medical authorities recommend a check-up every two years.

The unit will be located in front of the Gymnasium from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. To facilitate procedure, forms which must be filled out by persons desiring X-rays are available in Buttrick, Root, the College Store and at the Infirmary.

Senate Elects Three Officers At Opening Meeting Monday

The newly formed Student Senate elected Phil Hooper, Bob Miller and Rick Hatch vice-president, secretary and treasurer respectively at its first meeting Monday evening.

Hooper, DU representative to the senate, defeated Hal Bruck and John Driscoll, the other nominees for the office. Question was raised whether Hooper was the official representative of DU. Assured that he would be duly elected, the senate accepted Hooper as an official delegate.

Miller, representative of LXA, is co-captain of the swimming team, secretary-treasurer of the class of '58, secretary of the Debate Club, sports editor of the Spectator, treasurer of LXA and a member of the Student Curriculum Committee, Chapel Board and Choir. John Caldwell of Psi U opposed Miller in the election.

President of Chi Psi, Hatch is treasurer of the Campus Fund, treasurer of Was Los, a basketball manager and a member of the Chapel Board. Hatch won over Don Spencer, president of the class of '59.

Melius Sets Precedent

Senate President Art Melius set a precedent for senate elections by asking the members to state their views of the candidates. This form of impromptu campaign speech, while used in several fraternities, is an innovation to student government, not having been used in either the Student Council or the IFC.

In his introductory remarks, Melius stressed the importance of conscientious effort on the part of all the members. The successful future of the organization, Melius said, rests on the interest and activity shown now.

Agreeing with Melius, Carl Hansen, former president of the Student Council, said that the efficiency of the senate is dependent upon the regular attendence of all its members. Melius said that he felt a fine for absence was not necessary at the present time.

Delegates Not Official

Eighteen representatives for the 20-member body were present at the Monday meeting, Spencer being the only absentee. Four of the men in attendance were not, however, the official representatives of their groups. Squires, Delta Phi, DU and Theta Delt have yet to elect representatives. The membership of the senate will be completed when the president of the class of '61 is elected in the fall.

Melius set Monday, May 6, as the date for the second meeting of the senate. He said he would make appointments to the senate's five standing committees at that time. The committees are Rushing, Initiation Week, Budget, Calendar and Elections.

Chapel Seminar On St. Augustine Set for Monday

Dean Colin Miller and Edwin Tolan referance librarian, will discuss the writings and influence of St. Augustine Monday night at Chi Psi Lodge. The program will be third in a series of Chapel Board seminars.

Miller said Tuesday that he will show how Augustine appears as a perennial figure of controversy. Miller said he will also describe how the theology of Luther and Calvin is based on Augustine's teachings and how Augustine might be interpreted in light of his influence on these two men.

In his discussion of Augustine, Tolan said he will stress the relation between reason and faith. He said he will review the development of thought on reason and faith previous to Augustine's writings and also Augustine's experiences in coming to a solution.

Tolan said he will take a brief look at Augustine's theory of knowledge and will describe the influence of his balance between reason and faith.

Tolan said he will point out that certain Protestant attitudes are incompatible with Augustine's theology and will also demonstrate that fundamentalists embody a different spirit than that of Augustine.

Material for the seminar will be drawn from Augustine's writings, including "Confessions of St. Augustine," "De Musica Book 6," "De Magistro," "Enchiridion," and "City of God," Miller said.

Sound Equipment, Choir Materials Added to Silliman

Three inovations have been recently made in Choir facilities, Director John Baldwin said Wednesday.

A new sound system has been installed, Choir displays have been set up and Silliman 3, the former record library room, has been renovated, Baldwin said.

The sound system, including a recorder and amplifier, is designed so that Choir recordings can be made and played back during the same rehearsal, Baldwin said. It was installed by freshman Ted Hand.

There is also, Baldwin said, a display of Choir pictures, old concert programs and various memorabilia in the Choir room.

Recently renovated, Silliman 3 will now serve as the director's office and Choir library, Baldwin said. The contents of the library are being recatalogued by Choir Librarians James Healy and Bruce Geer.

Marsh Announces Four Speakers In Prize Contest

Prof. Willard Marsh announced the contestants for the McKinney Prize Speaking Contest Monday.

The juniors are Paul Goetz, Malcolm McClinchie, Art Melius and John Stanton. They will give impromptu speeches, receiving their topics five minutes before they speak. They will probably speak on a topic which they have prepared for public speaking at some time in the past three years, Marsh said.

The four sophomore speakers are Bruce Geer, Fred Goodrich, Richard Hinman and Phil Mead. They will speak extempore on a topic of their choice approved by their coach, Prof Robert Carson.

The freshmen participating are Richard Blinkoff, Dennis Howie, Robert Tessler and Preston Zucker. They will give memorized selections, all of which will be taken from Modern American Drama. Prof. W. David Lewis will supervise freshman preparation.

The contests will take place at Alpha Delta Phi, Monday, May 13, at 8 p.m. The judges, to be announced later, will be members of the faculty.

The best two speakers from each class will receive book prizes provided by the $1500 McKinney foundation.

Marsh said the public speaking department chooses the contestants primarily for their general scholarship achievement and with very few exceptions for excellent speaking ability.

Show 'Miss Julie'

The Foreign Films Society will present "Miss Julie" tonight and tomorrow evening at 8 p.m. in the Chemistry Auditorium. A Swedish-made drama, "Miss Julie," won first prize at the Cannes Film Festival in 1951. Admission is 60¢.

Tischler Wins Title of Best Debater; Proposes Wider Hill Office Holding

Gary Tischler was judged the best debater in the 85th McKinney Prize Debate on Wednesday evening at ELS. Second prize in the contest was awarded to Peter O'Hara.

The topic of this year's debate was "Resolved: that leadership in student activities should be more widely distributed." The members of the affirmative team were Jim Bromley and Gary Tischler. Hurd Baruch and Peter O'Hara debated the negative.

Bromley, the first affirmative speaker, proposed a four-part plan intended to provide for a faculty committee to supervise student office holding, to allow each student to hold two positions of leadership and more upon approval by the committee, to retain all present College rules on student activities and to have student advisors encourage their advisees to participate in extra-curricular affairs.

Baruch, the first negative speaker, replied that the purpose of leadership positions at Hamilton was not to provide training in leadership. Those students interested and qualified would, Baruch said, assume positions with or without a plan and those less qualified would not.

"We feel, therefore, that the present system does give very wide opportunities to be leaders. . . . You must have some followers and many students want to be followed," Baruch said.

Tischler, the second affirmative speaker, attempted to justify the plan presented by Bromley.

He contended that "it is the curriculum of a college that is the most important . . . that extracurricular activities are not an end in themselves and that they should not be a distraction."

O'Hara, the second negative speaker, said that the tools for leadership ability were offered to the student at Hamilton and that he could use or not use them as he saw fit.

In the rebuttal speeches, Baruch attacked the affirmative case as one of "complete contradiction." O'Hara said that the two main points in the debate were the need for such a program and the plan presented.

The debate was judged by Professors Potter, Piano and Pilkington. Bob Miller was chairman and timekeeper.

Choir To Present Concert in Buffalo Tomorrow Night

Tomorrow evening the Hamilton Choir will sing with the Buffalo Seminary Glee Club, Shedd Williams, manager of the Choir, said Wednesday.

Besides singing the numbers presented on Parents Weekend, the Choir will join with the Seminary in Vaughan Williams' "Festival Te Deum."

The Hamilton alumni in Buffalo are giving a reception and tea dance for the two groups Saturday afternoon, Williams said.

Choir members will stay at the homes of Hamilton alumni in Buffalo and will return to the Hill following the Saturday concert.

RESIDENTS RENOWNED —

Caskets Crowd Cemetery

by JAY DUNGAN

If you want to be buried in the College cemetery, you'd better plan now, because to be eligible you must be more than dead. You must also have been connected with the College for at least five years, or the wife of a person fulfilling that requirement. Obviously, most of the undergraduates do not fall into that category.

This is a new rule because the cemetery is getting over-crowded, and, as one professor remarked, "The place is full of people who don't belong there."

In spite of the necessary discrimination on the part of the College, there are some very interesting people there. Three of the grave markers have the insignia of the deceased's fraternity on them, two of Sigma Phi and one of Alpha Delt. These men must have been stalwarts of their fraternities; under one of the Sigma Phi insignias are the words "never forget."

The chief of the Oneida Nation in Samuel Kirkland's time, Schenando, is also buried in the cemetery. Secretary of the College Johnson suspects that not all of Schenando is there. According to Johnson he was moved, and some of his bones may have been lost.

Near Schenando's grave is the grave of the man who caused the downfall of the Oneida Nation, John W. Mears. In Mears' time the Indians still believed in free love . . . he didn't. Mears finally got his point across to the red men, but in doing so he destroyed the tribe.

There is also a marker in the cemetery that does not mark a grave. It is the 1884 class marker, and it may be said that it marks the death of a class. It seems that the class revolted when the College refused to grant a holiday to attend the funeral of a professor.

Bolters Leave Campus

All of them left the campus, and many did not return; some because they did not want to return, others because the College didn't want them to. The marker is in the shape of a tree branch with a bolt on the top to remind people of the day when a class bolted. It is in the cemetery because one of the members (who did graduate) asked that it be placed beside his grave.

Widely separated are two graves that have something in common. There seem to be few clues to what must have been interesting stories about them. One is the grave of a mother, her son, and daughter. They died in the sinking of the "Ville Du Harvre" in 1873. The other is of Duncan Cambell Lee which contains only his heart. The rest of his body is in London.

One of Hamilton's most beloved alumni, Alexander Woollcott, is also buried at the cemetery. His grave is marked by a very simple stone and can be easily missed. Sec. Johnson tells an interesting story about his burial. Woollcott's body had been cremated in preparation for burial, and Johnson was one of the men officiating

No Warnings —

WE HOPE THAT most students will reject the opinions expressed elsewhere on this page in a letter about the Honor Court. If they do not, we feel they do not realize why the Honor System is effective.

About the conviction referred to in the letter . . . the person convicted should hardly be considered a freshman by the Court. Any person who has been at Hamilton for a full eight months and does not realize that the system is serious business is incredibly foolish.

People are afraid of the harshness of the punishment. It is this very harshness, however, that makes the system work. And it will work only so long as the consequences of cheating are so formidable that the student puts completely out of his mind any ideas about testing the system.

As soon as any kind of "warning" system is introduced, the consequences seem less frightening, more students are tempted to cheat, the Court is besieged with cases and the whole system becomes a farcical "one cheat per person" plan.

ON THE SAME SUBJECT, we read with interest a statement in our last issue by the librarian at the Silliman Hall record library. He said that the record library is no longer a part of the Honor System because there will be someone on duty there full time.

We were under the impression that it takes a three-fourths vote of the student body to repeal any sections of the Honor Court Constitution.

It is a good idea, though, and we hope that the Court will introduce motions to remove this part of the system that has been completely ineffective.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR—

Answers 'Concerned Senior'

April 29, 1957

To The Editor:

This letter is being written to the Seniors of next year, some of whom may have inherited the completely erroneous ideas expressed in a letter to the Spectator last week by "a concerned Senior."

First of all, the Senior Party is a traditional event, and is in fact, the President's Party for the Seniors. It is complete in itself, and I think most seniors would agree that it has always been a very pleasant evening.

It is true that some members of the faculty and their wives have entertained groups of seniors at dinner before the Senior Party just as they do before various other events on the campus, but no organized attempt has ever been made to provide every senior, or even the majority of the seniors with a dinner invitation.

It is quite possible that some seniors may even receive more than one invitation to dinner, and some none. In some cases these invitations may well be at the last minute, and quite informal.

This should not be the cause of embarassment to any senior, and certainly not disgrace any members of the faculty or their wives.

Ethel T. Cameron

More Views on Senior Party

Dear Sir:

Two points in the letter from "A Concerned Senior," in the Apr. 26 Spectator, should be set straight.

First, with regard to "the faculty's efforts to provide seniors with a pleasant evening . . . ," the Senior Party is given by President and Mrs. McEwen, happily aided and abetted by members of the faculty.

Faculty members are invited to the Senior Party in the same way and at the same time the seniors receive their invitations.

Second, with regard to "very poor organization of the dinner invitations . . .", not in any sense is there an organized plan to entertain seniors before the Senior Party.

Three years ago, our first year at Hamilton, we inquired about the Senior Party from other faculty members when we received our invitation.

We found that a new trend was gradually developing, a trend away from dinners given by faculty couples for faculty guests toward dinners given by faculty couples for seniors. Those faculty members who can, and do, entertain before the Senior Party, do so on entirely individual bases.

Some invite senior majors in their departments. Some invite members of their senior seminars. Some choose their guests by reason of a fraternity association. Some faculty members invite certain seniors merely because they know them well and are fond of them.

Thus, there are apt to be duplications and omissions entirely unrelated to student popularity.

Sincerely,
Mrs. David Hawley

Student Offers Court Change

To the Student Body:

As a student of Hamilton College, I am a strong and firm believer in an Honor System. However, I feel that the expulsion sentence handed out to a freshman last week was too harsh for the circumstances surrounding the case, since it was the first time that a boy had violated the Honor Code.

We all have an idea of what the expulsion sentence is going to do to this boy. I don't have to go into that. But, I feel that through action such as this, the Honor Court destroys one of its main advantages by not allowing this freshman to come back here in a year or so to atone for his mistake.

If the freshman had been suspended rather than expelled, he would have been able to correct his mistake.

To prevent such occurrences from happening again, I recommend the following "warning system" for the FRESHMAN CLASS ONLY.

Suspension is the usual sentence for freshman violators. The freshman often loses his desire to come back to the Hill after a year's suspension, because he has not had enough opportunity to become a part of Hamilton. To prevent this from happening, a warning system could be used.

On the boy's initial violation, the Honor Court should function as usual and come to a verdict.

However, if the freshman is convicted this conviction should constitute not a suspension or expulsion sentence but a "warning," which could either be made public or not (whatever the Honor Court feels).

This warning would tell the freshman that the next time he is caught violating the Honor Code will result in suspension or expulsion, preferably expulsion.

The benefit in the warning system would be twofold. First, it would help the freshman who does cheat to adjust better to our system. Second, it would benefit the College by making these violators better men to our college community and would result in a smaller loss of students through expulsion or suspension in the upper classes.

This warning system, I hope, will be considered by the student body and the Honor Court.

A freshman last week was deprived of his justifiable right to return to Hamilton to make up for his mistake. Let's keep this sort of thing from happening again.

It is the duty and obligation of the College and the Honor Court to improve men rather than destroy them.

'Chicago Tribune' Judges Hamilton In National Poll

Hamilton ranks fifth nationally in academic excellence among men's colleges, according to a recent educational survey taken by the Chicago Tribune.

The Tribune, currently conducting a comprehensive survey on the standing of American colleges and universities, rated the top ten educational institutions in each of four categories: universities, co-ed colleges, men's colleges and women's colleges.

The top ten in the men's college group, in order, are Haverford, Amherst, Kenyon, Wesleyan, Hamilton, Union, Bowdoin, University of the South, Washington and Lee, and Williams.

The Tribune intends to follow its ratings with a series of articles dealing with the leading schools, indicating the reasons for their leadership and explaining the methods by which they were chosen.

In his first article Manly explained that the ratings were based upon the consensus opinion of more than 50 educational experts and scientists in a cross-section of the nation's leading colleges and universities.

In appraising the value of his consultants' judgment, Chesley said that their collective experience as students, teachers or administrative officers represents, "all the leading universities in the the leading universities in the United States and some of the greatest in Europe."

The results of the poll, Manly said, were supplemented by objective evidence on the "achievements and distinctions" of the schools involved. This helped to pin down the ratings where the expert consensus was vague.

The top 10 women's colleges, according to Manly, are:

1. Bryn Mawr
2. Radcliffe
3. Barnard
4. Vassar
5. Wellesley
6. Mount Holyoke
7. Smith
8. Goucher
9. Pembroke
10. Randolph-Macon Woman's

Manly said the 10 leading universities are:

1. Harvard
2. Yale
3. California
4. Chicago
5. Columbia
6. Princeton
7. Michigan
8. Cornell
9. Wisconsin
10. Stanford

Baldwin Leads Talk At Music Conference

Last week Prof. John Baldwin and Concert Manager Al Shaler attended the annual convention of the Intercollegiate Music Council at Michigan State University. Al Shaler has written the following report of the convention for the Spectator.

by AL SHALER

Men's glee clubs and choirs of colleges from coast to coast make up the International Music Council which met at Michigan Apr. 24 to 27.

Directors and student managers met separately during the convention; each group discussed different problems arising in the various college groups.

Baldwin Discusses Pitch

Prof. Baldwin led a discussion on the problems of pitch maintenance in a seminar for directors. He pointed out that pitch falling is brought about by psychological factors and is usually the director's fault. He said, "There is no such thing as a bad choir or glee club. There are only bad directors."

Prof. Tillotson of Bowdoin discussed the latest recording methods, with the Wayne University Glee Club recording on demonstration equipment. (The Hamilton Choir recorded for the convention last year at RPI) The recordings are used to demonstrate techniques in sound reproduction.

Prof. Albert Stewart, director of the Purdue University Glee Club, spoke on promoting the college musical organization. The director's main concern, according to Stewart, is giving the public what it wants. Stewart said, "There may be bad directors, but there are also bad glee clubs. I know. I've had them."

Hamilton Not Typical

Student managers attended undergraduate seminars. At these seminars, we noted that Hamilton's choir was not a typical organization compared with the majority at the convention. Most of the other groups sing a program of very light, secular music, and most of them had major problems which made ours look unimportant.

Our choir is one of the few giving academic credit for participation. Consequently, we are not hampered by poor attendance which plagues the other groups.

Many managers complained that their directors force them to sing music which they don't like or can't understand. Others said that the chairmen of their music departments, usually not the choir directors, restrict their budgets.

Too Many Spirits

Few of the other colleges have as many joint concerts as we do. Those touring frequently seem to be bothered by a lack of spirit and an abundance of spirits during their trips.

The Purdue Glee Club emphasizes showmanship in all concerts. They do not use programs, and the director attempts to feel out the audience to determine the program. None of the members can belong to any other activity or varsity sport; they sing 125 concerts a year, for which they receive more than $100,000.

Michigan has a budget of $10,000 which the glee club use to tour the West by rail the past winter. Its manager complained that the singers were so worn out that any future trip of such distance would probably be by air.

Pan Sullivan Show

Many of the groups had sung on Ed Sullivan's television program, and all unanimously said they would never do so again. Apparently Sullivan contracts the groups for five minutes of singing, rehearses them for hours, subjects them to ignorant and demanding producers, and then gives them a minute and a quarter of broadcast time.

At its final meeting, the convention elected Prof. Baldwin for another term on the Board of Directors of the Intercollegiate Music Council.

TOUGH MATCH ON TAP —

Tennis Team Still Undefeated

The only undefeated team on the Hill, the College tennis team, travels to RPI tomorrow searching for its fourth straight win of this year's campaign.

Coach Weber's men, who racked up their second and third wins of the year with victories over Syracuse and Hobart last week, will meet the highly rated RPI tennis team at 1:30 on the RPI courts.

According to Weber, RPI should be the best team Hamilton meets this year. They lost last year only to Colgate and Williams, two of the best teams in the East and are undefeated this year. Two Junior Davis Cup winners are reported to be playing their first two positions.

Making things rougher for Hamilton will be RPI's macadam courts, that are expected to make the balls bounce higher than the team is accustomed to.

The Syracuse match last Saturday saw Hamilton triumph by a score of 7 - 2. Only Craig Henzel and Phil Lord had easy matches in the singles, both winning in two sets.

Henzel beat Syracuse's number one man Bill Van Aiken 6 - 2 and 6 - 4. Lord defeated Tom Dannicelli, who played in the sixth spot for Syracuse by the score of 6 - 2 and 6 - 2.

Jack Roberts, Tim Smelzer and Gerry Dirvin all took three sets to defeat their opponents. Chris Ravndal, playing number two for Hamilton, lost to Allan Maguire 4 - 6, 0 - 6.

In doubles Hamilton triumphed 2 to 1. Smelzer and Don Kittell won the number two doubles 6 - 4, 6 - 2. In the number three doubles freshman Hadley Roe made his first appearance on the tennis scene this year as he teamed with Ravndal to defeat Etelson and Rosenthal 7 - 5, 6 - 3. Roberts and Henzel lost their doubles match to Maguire and Van Aiken, 3-6, 5 - 7.

On Wednesday Hamilton continued its winning ways by downing Hobart 8 - 1. Hamilton won five of the singles matches with Henzel, Ravndal, Roberts, Smelzer and Lord all coming out on top. Dirvin lost to Parsons by 4 - 6, 4 - 6 scores.

In the doubles Hamilton won all three of its matches. Henzel and Ravndal defeated Mendell and Marr 6 - 0, 6 - 1 in the first doubles.

Kittell and Smelzer won the second doubles 6 - 3, 6 - 3, while in the third doubles Roberts teamed with Dirvin to win 6 - 0, 6 - 0.

at the ceremony that took place on a rainy January day in 1943.

Woollcott Makes Splash

When the container holding Woollcott's ashes was lowered, the buff and blue ribbons used to hold it broke. As the container hit the bottom of the muddy grave, Dorothy Parker, Woollcott's fellow humorist, remarked, "Isn't that just like Alexander, throwing mud until the end!"

Of course, the founder of the College is buried in the cemetery. On the marker are Kirkland's words expressing his hopes for the then Hamilton-Oneida Academy.

"It is my earnest wish that the institution may grow and flourish, that its advantages may be permanent and extensive and that under the smiles of the God of wisdom it may prove an eminent means of diffusing the bounds of human happiness and aiding the reign of virtue and the Kingdom of the Redeemer."

Anglicans Elect

The Canterbury Club elected James Healy president for next year at a meeting Monday night at ELS.

Other officers include William Murray, vice-president, and Tom Kunichika, secretary.

Smelzer Picked

Thursday night the Block H Club elected Tim Smelzer president for next year. Smelzer is co-captain of next year's soccer team and a member of the tennis team. Also elected were: Hal Bruck, vice-presidnet; Bill Hoyt, treasurer; Barclay Ward, secretary.

Union Track Team Edges Continentals In Tight Contest

Although the Continentals captured eight of a possible 15 first places, they bowed to the Union track team 73-58 last Saturday. Coach Gene Long, said later he thought the decisive factor was "a stronger, deeper Union squad" which took all but four of the second places.

During the course of the day three school records were broken. Joe Nuccio broke his own high jump record by leaping 6′ ¾″. Captain Pete Eld, who also won the high hurdles and ran a leg in the relay, dashed over the 220 low hurdles in a record of 24.4 seconds. And Paul McGiffin, winner of the discuss event, put himself in a class with few other college javelin throwers by going over the 200-foot mark.

Although the mile relay team of Chick Vincent, Milt Harkrader, Doc Jordon, and Pete Eld bettered the school record, the time could not be recorded because the team did not place first.

Aside from the record breakers, notable performances were turned in by Hal Bruck who took a first, a second, and a third; Jim White who took a first and a third; and freshman Doc Jordon who ran a very impressive 51.8 to cop the 440 yard dash and was very strong in his leg of the mile relay. By jumping 5′ 10″ in the high jump, John Stevens and Dave Ostrom were able to place behind Nuccio for a clean sweep of the event for Hamilton.

Despite the loss, Coach Long said he felt that there was "almost without exception, fine effort in all events."

This Saturday the Continentals travel to Cortland where they will meet Cortland State Teachers College.

Miler Gigliotti, who took second in the state meet last year; Sellars, who placed fifth in the shot in that same meet; Sawyer, a very dependable hurdler; and Todd, a strong freshman middle-distance man, help round out the Cortland team.

Because of these men and Cortland's impressive 93½-37½ victory over Buffalo on Saturday, Coach Long anticipates a much closer meet than last year's 80-51 Hamilton victory.

Hamilton starters for this Saturday are: in the 100, Bruck and Bob Wilkins; 220, Bruck, Wilkins and Jordon; 440, Jordon, Vincent and Harkrader; 880, Glenn Hudson, Bruce Bartlett and Bob Patton; mile, Bill Poole and Patton; 2 mile, Al Shaler and Barclay Ward; low hurdles, Pete Eld, Terry Eld, and Dave McLean; and high hurdles, Pete Eld.

In field events, Hamilton entries will be: pole vault, Jim Bonbright; high jump, Nuccio, Dave Ostrom and Stevens; broad jump, Bruck, White and Eld; shot put, White, Mal McClinchie and Bob Rockafeller; discus and javelin, McGiffin, John Moore, and McClinchie.

RPI Defeats Hill Nine, 1-0; Union Beats Lacrosse Team

Before a sizable Parent's Weekend crowd, the Continental lacrosse team dropped its first game of the season last Saturday to a visiting Union squad, 6 - 3.

Hamilton played the Dutchmen to a 2-2 deadlock in the first half, but the roof fell in on the hosts in the third period as the Dutchmen pushed three quick goals by Continental goalie Roger Pisani. The loss evened the Blue's record at one and one for the current campaign.

Hamilton dominated the first quarter play by keeping the pressure on Union, although the Blue were able to score only once. In a reverse pattern Union, which had trouble clearing the ball from its own end of the field, produced two goals on three offensive drives.

The game was eight minutes old before Jack Ince of the visitors scored the first goal on an assist from Bob Thurber. Less than two minutes later Hamilton's John Driscoll tied the score unassisted. The Dutchmen took a 2-1 lead as the period ended, on a score by Don Little assisted by Pete Bretschneider.

Third Period Total

Continental defense held Union scoreless in the second quarter, while Pete Germond tied the game on a goal at the 8:30 mark. Germond's score was unassisted, tying the game at two all. Both teams passed up many other scoring opportunities so that at the end of the half the score remained deadlocked.

The tie was a short-lived one as the Dutchmen broke the game wide open in the third period with three big goals. At 2:45 of the period Joe Gluck put the visitors ahead, and they never relinquished the lead. Bretschneider and Thurber also added goals.

Dutchmen defense also held the Blue scoreless enabling the visitors to take a commanding 5-2 lead at the end of the period.

Each team scored once in the fourth quarter, Union on a goal by Bretschneider at the seven minute mark, and Hamilton a minute later on a goal by Carl Hansen unassisted.

However, the Continentals were unable to overcome the three goal lead piled up by the visitors in the previous period. A Dutchman's fourth period score enabled Union to win easily 6-3.

Play Colgate Next

This past week Coach Chip Hunter has been working on fundamentals, particularly on loose ball drills and quicksticking, two departments Hamilton was weak in last Saturday.

With Saturday's game in the record books, the Huntermen are looking forward to tomorrow's invasion of Colgate. Detective Steve Greenhut, who scouted Colgate earlier in the season, reports them to be weaker than last year, but the Continentals can expect to have their hands full with the big Maroon. Last year Colgate downed Hamilton 5-3.

Hobart gained its one full point as Bob Mongeau bowed for Hamilton.

Hamilton golfers travel to Hartwick College today boasting victories over Harpur as well as Hobart. They lost their first match to Rochester.

by GARY LEONHARDT

The Continental baseball team travels to Geneva tomorrow for a double-header with the Hobart Statesmen, hoping to break into the win column after suffering one-run defeats in its first two games.

Last Wednesday the Blue lost a twelve-inning contest when RPI pushed across a run in the 12th for a 1-0 victory. Hamilton put two men on with back-to-back singles in the bottom half of the inning, but was unable to score.

Friday led off for the Engineers in the last inning with a single to right. Bob Kliphon, Hamilton pitcher, got Ramsay on a foul fly to Nicolette in left, and Neidleman grounded to second. Friday took second on the play.

Jansen was safe on an infield error and Finegan fell flat to stop the throw to first. Friday scored from second, beating Finegan's throw to the plate.

Finegan and Purple fouled out to open the home half of the inning. Bob Lambert, hitting for Slattery, singled to left, and Don diGiulian followed suit. Art Melius hit for Colapietro and grounded to third to end the game.

Pitchers Have Stamina

Both pitchers went the distance. Kliphon retired 16 men in order from the third to the eighth innings. Laskowski, the RPI pitcher, broke the string and spoiled a no-hitter for Kliphon when he doubled with two out in the eighth.

Kliphon struck out eight, walked four, and gave up only three hits, including two doubles. Laskowski yielded six hits, all singles, walked only one, and struck out eight. He retired 20 Hamilton batters in a row between the fourth and the tenth innings.

Centerfielder Eric Hasseltine kept Kliphon's no-hitter temporarily alive in the top of the seventh when he disappeared down the right centerfield bank to gather in a long fly ball by Ramsay, RPI first baseman.

The Continentals threatened momentarily in the tenth and the eleventh innings. In the tenth diGiulian singled to center and took third when the ball got by Jim Alden for a two-base error. In the eleventh, Hasseltine was safe on an infield single. He took second on Byko's poor throw to first.

Hamilton left eight men on the base paths, including four in the last three innings. RPI stranded seven runners.

Stevens Downs Blue

Last Saturday afternoon the Continentals lost their season opener to Stevens Tech 9 - 8. The wild ball game, which took two hours and 54 minutes to play, was marred by nine errors and 10 walks.

Ben Werner started for the Continentals and pitched good ball until the eighth, when Stevens had their big inning. Werner was in a slight jam in the third when he forced in a run with a walk, but he got Perry on a ground ball to second to end the inning.

In the Hamilton half of the fifth Werner got to second on a throwing error by Oppici. Hasseltine then lined one of Perry's offerings down the right field line for a home run to put Hamilton ahead 2 - 1.

Hamilton added two more in the seventh when Taylor, the Stevens centerfielder, made two successive three-base errors on singles by Slattery and diGiulian.

Big Inning Hurts

In the eighth Stevens put together three hits, two walks, and two miscues for seven unearned runs with two out. The first man up flied out to center, but the next hitter was safe on an error.

Eckert hit a bouncer to Werner, who threw to Colapietro for the force play at second. Finegan was pulled off the bag by the throw to first and Eckert was safe.

The next five Stevens hitters reached first. Then Kopp cleared the bases with a triple over the right field bank. He added Stevens' last run of the inning when he stole home. Jones relieved Werner and got Taylor on a ground ball for the third out.

The Continentals rallied in the bottom of the eighth, capitalizing on singles by Nicolette, Finegan and Olson and a sacrifice fly by diGiulian for three more runs.

Stevens added an insurance run in the top of the ninth on a double by Klee, a single by Eckert, and a walk to Anderson. Eckert was thrown out at home as he tried to score when Anderson stole second.

In the last of the ninth, Hasseltine led off with a walk, then stole second and third. Finegan drove him home with his third hit of the day, but Klee, who had replaced Perry on the mound in the eighth, struck out Olson to end the game.

ON CLOSE EXAMINATION*

Of all the different sorts of guys
There are only two that I despise:
The first I really would like to slam
Is the one who copies from my exam.
The other one's the dirty skunk
Who covers his and lets me flunk!
